

BOREAS

ixty
eight

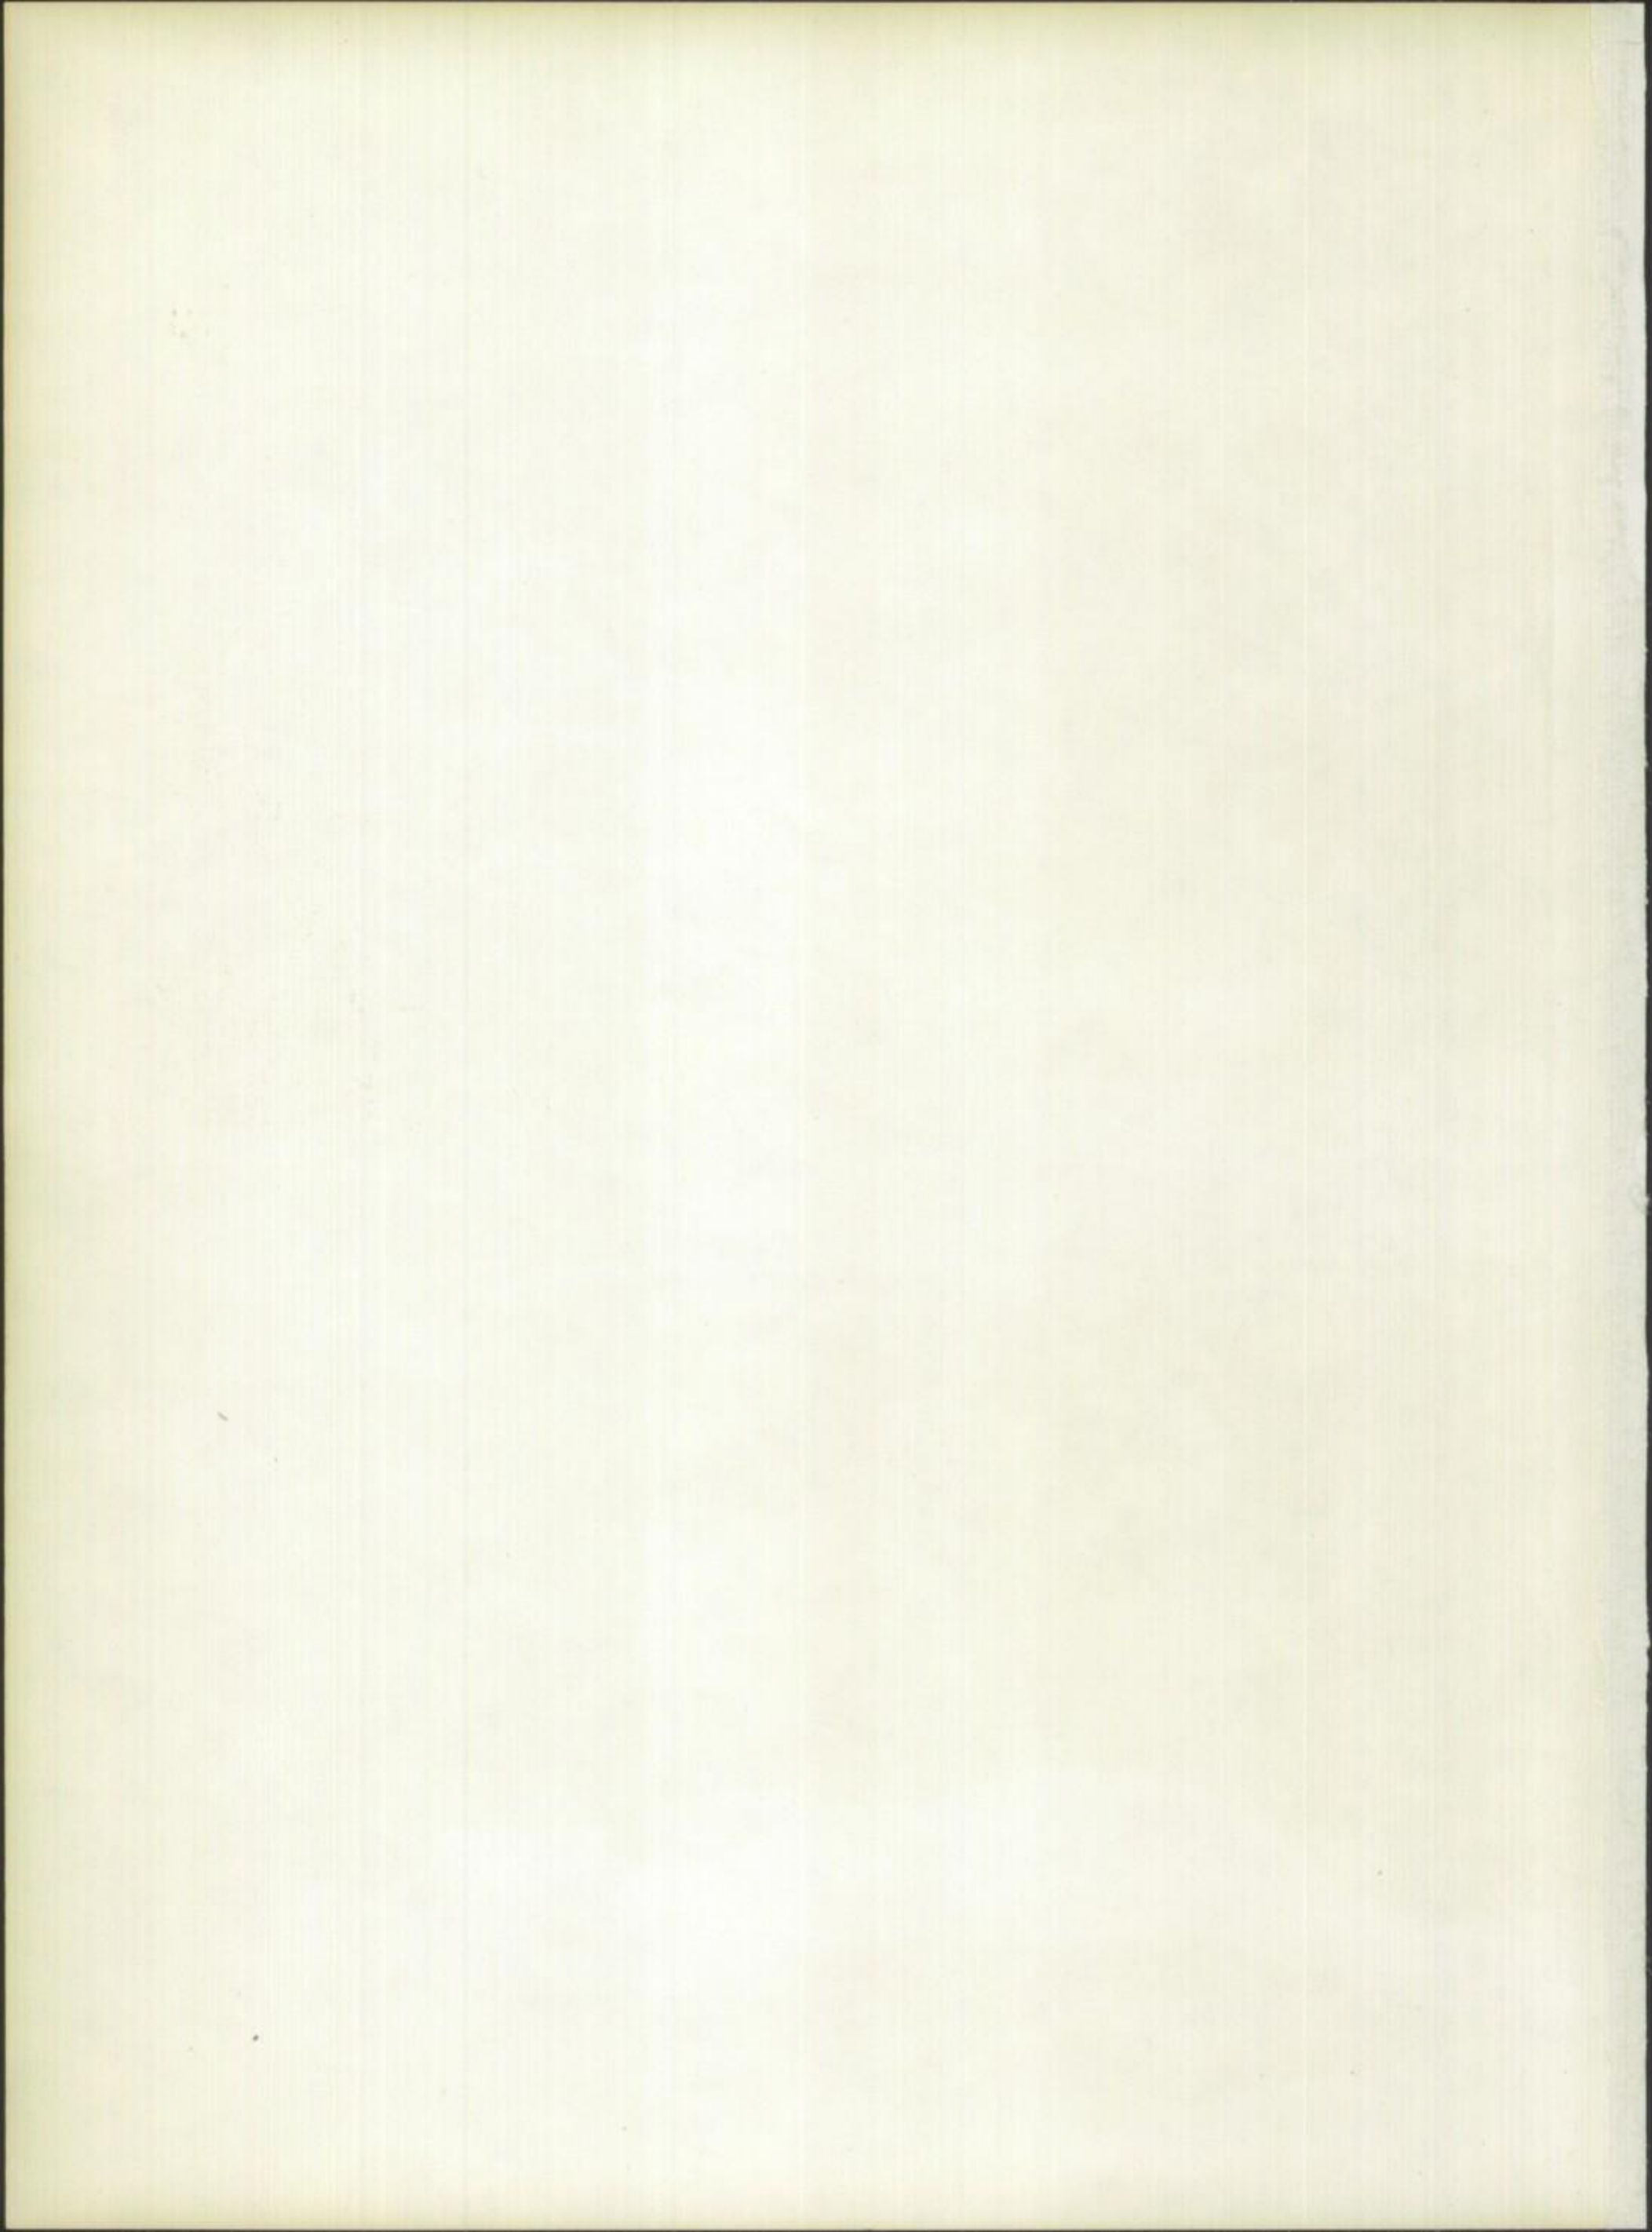

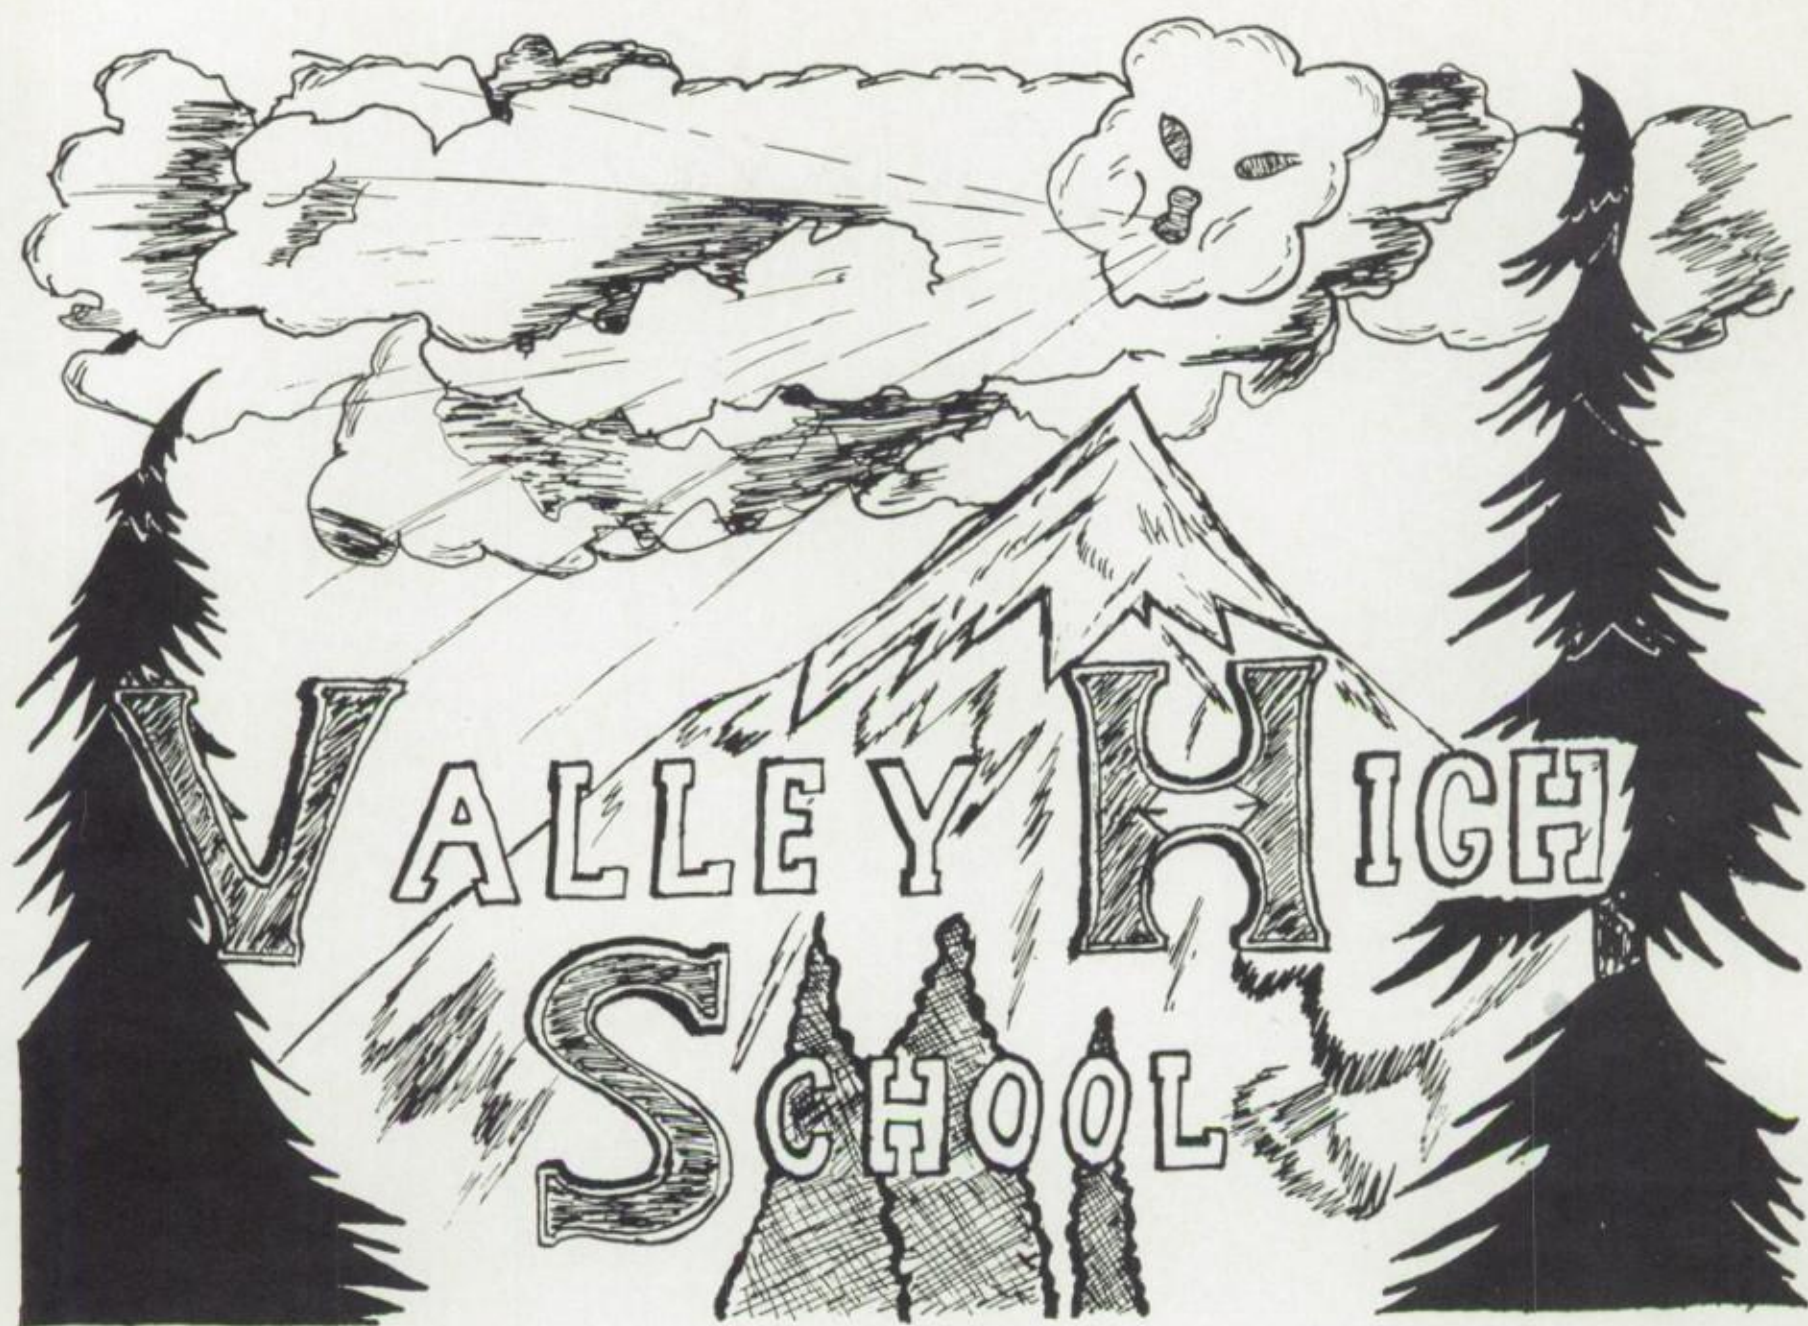

I AM BOREAS, THE NORTHWIND;
NEWBORN I COME FROM THE NORTHLAND,
CHILD OF ICE AND SNOW.
STRANGER I WANDER NOW,
FAR FROM MY NATIVE CLIME.
WELCOME ME TO YOUR MIDST,
BEFRIEND ME IN MY YOUTH,
NOURISH ME THAT I MAY GROW
TO MANHOOD AND BECOME ENSHRINED
A LOYAL SON OF VALLEY HIGH.

We, the class of 1968, wish to dedicate this, the 34th edition of the Boreas, to Mrs. Moore, our advisor, who, in the last four years, has given us guidance and understanding.

We are sorry that this is Mrs. Moore's last year of teaching because the upcoming classes will be deprived of a great teacher, "storyteller", and friend.

We would like to extend our sincerest appreciation and gratitude to Mrs. Hoffman, who has not only been a fine advisor, but who has also made it possible to successfully publish the Boreas for the past five years.

We acted as guides Parents Night and helped organize the Christmas Assembly. The council is working on a Teenage Recreation program for the students.

AN AUTUMN WALK

As I walk along the beaten path,
The trees are like giants,
And I a tiny elf among the
Many arms of the trees.
The arms bear no leaves now,
For they have nodded to earlier travelers.
Now as I walk, the crackle of dead leaves is heard.
The sun makes only knife-like shadows
When it shines through the bare trees
As if to frighten me when I walk.
But the season, with its aroma
Tells me it's only an Autumn Walk.

Val McAllister

UNIQUE

Swiftly pass the clouds
Like poetry through my mind.
A star, like an idea
So very close to me now.
Without pain
I accept all these things.
Silhouettes quiver with a life
That flows into me.
And out of me.
We are one,
And we are two.

Brenda Stuart

SHADOWS

Shadows found resting beneath a tree,
Or fading from evening into night,
Are seen in stillness or in racing shapes,
Or causing happiness, solitude or leaping hearts.

Shadows of the night that lie in wait,
That silently watch the strangers pass by,
Then linger in the paths just crossed,
Are shadows that make the darkness alive.

The daytime shadows live a different life,
They are always alert and ready,
To be the partner of some dancing child -
Then quickly melt away in the breeze.
